IN PURSUANCE OF A LAW PASSED BY THE PRESENT Legislative Assembly, the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum is located in East Portland, in this county, Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea, Physicians and Proprietors.

The Proprietors of the above Establishment will immediately make additions to their present buildings, in order to offer accommodations to all who are unfortunate enough to need the care and treatment of an Insane or Idiotic Asylum.

It is especially requested on the part of County Judges, guardians and friends of this class of patients to have them immediately conveyed to the Asylum, so that they may be properly cared for before the inclement weather sets in.

THE INDIGENT WILL BE SUPPORTED AT THE EXPENSE OF THE STATE, and no record of debt made against them. For further particulars apply to Physicians of the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum.

Portland, Multnomah Co., Oct 19, 1862.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: if they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully refunded by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gums at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as soon as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or gall upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will cure all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

FIELD'S STEAMED OYSTERS!

MR. A. FIELD, whose Oysters have long enjoyed the highest reputation in this market, has recently invented an entirely new process of packing which possesses every advantage over the one hitherto employed. It so preserves the natural flavor, freshness and shape of the Oyster that they may be either Stewed, Fried, Scolloped or Fancy-Roasted—in fact cooked in any manner adapted to those just taken from the shell. They will not be broken into pieces by land travel, however lengthy, and will retain their sweetness, after the can is cut, longer than secured by any other method.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. [illegible] 186[illegible]

Lynch Law at Auburn.—It will be seen by our Powder river correspondent that the citizens and miners of Auburn have als[o] adopted the system of Lynch law even more cruel and barbarous than at Lewiston. We regret to hear of such affairs, because we are satisfied that the civil law of the land could and would be fairly and impartially enforced by the proper authorities if allowed by the people [illegible] that [illegible] to have its due course. The establishment of mob law is a fearful undertaking by any people and should be regarded as the very last resort after everything else had been tried. We earnestly advise the people of the upper country that they should first give the civil law a trial, and in the event that murderers, robbers and desperadoes generally go unwhipt of justice, then it will be time to take the execution of the law in their own hands and punish the criminals; but so long as there is [illegible] reasonable probability that justice will be [illegible] out [illegible] under the properly organized civil authority, every one should not only peaceabl[y] [illegible] [illegible] submit to its jurisdiction, but rend[er] all the assistance necessary to secure a fair [illegible] and full exercise of power. We freely admit that the statements which has reached us of the character of the desperadoes who have been thus summarily dealt with by the people, are probably sufficient to justify the taking of their lives, yet we know of no instance in the history of Vigilance Committees or mob laws where some wrong has not been done. No organization of this kind, nor any other departure from the regularly constituted and legally authorized authority of the land has been attended with good without also doing much harm. That one good was accomplished by the organization of Vigilance Committees in the early history of California is no doubt true, yet the history of these Committees contain many sad facts which will be remembered to the end of life by those engaged therein with remorse and shame, and these sad stories have cast a shade over the whole proceedings, which will remain forever like dark spots upon the page of history.

The taking of man's life under any circumstance is a fearful responsibility and should never be exercised except under the most extreme circumstances and upon the clearest direct evidence showing the necessity; how much greater then is the responsibility and how sad may the consequences be which follow the taking of life while in a state of excitement and unrestrained passion? As has been truly remarked by our correspondent, "none can forsee the end" of such usurpations of power and authority, and none are free, however innocent, from its violent and cruel liabilities. We sincerely trust that the people of the mining regions within our borders will continue a law and order people, and that the civil courts of the country shall be allowed at least a reasonable chance to decide upon the penalties due to criminals and disorderly characters. May we never have to record a repetition of the scenes described by our correspondent.

Municipal Election.—At the election held in Salem on Monday last, December 1st, the following gentlemen were elected officers of the city for the ensuing year: For Mayor—Henry M. Thatcher; Recorder—Richard Williams; Treasurer—John G. Wright; Marshal—R. A. Barker.

Military.—We are informed that Captain Spencer's company, W. T. Volunteers, have been ordered to the Dalles, and will go up on the Hunt to-day. Col. Steinberger's regiment is now nearly full, only lacking three men to fill up the tenth and last company.

☞ Don't forget the Ladies' Fair, to-night, at the Gymnasium Hall.

As though the Confederacy had not sufficient trouble on its hands, the Seminole Indians in Florida have broken loose. It is a fatal case for the Confederacy, which is shinning it already for paper on which to print its worthless promises to pay. The Seminole war cost the United States Government uncounted millions. Every Indian killed, or otherwise disposed of, cost the Government upwards of $100,000. What can Jeff. Davis expect to accomplish, with a Seminole war on his hands?

The defences of Corinth are being strengthened on an extended scale. Over one hundred buildings in the line of fortifications, now completed, have been torn down. The Seminary building is now used as a Hospital, but will probably be destroyed, since it is in the range of our guns. The Tishamingo House, a very large building, situated in the centre of the town, just beside the railroad track, is to be converted into a Hospital, for which it is well adapted.

We understand from a correspondent at Fort Yamhill that quite an excitement was raised at the fort last week, by the refusal of a portion of the soldiers to drill under certain officers. Several were confined in the guard house and order was restored.—Statesman.

Letter from Powder River

AUBURN, Nov. 2[illegible], 1862.

Editor [illegible]:

S[illegible] my last [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] quiet [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] taking the murderer [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] up about as follows: A desperado known as Tom, the Spaniard, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] other Spaniard [illegible] [illegible] in the lower part [illegible] a few days ago [illegible] stepping up [illegible] two Americans [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which was accepted [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] was found that the Spaniard had no [illegible] the two Americans [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Americans [illegible] [illegible] the Spaniard [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Spaniard stabbing this man [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Spaniard then [illegible] and as the bar keeper (who it seems was the only witness of the affair) did not say anything about it until next day, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to escape. The Sheriff upon learning of the murder immediately deputized several parties and started in pursuit, [illegible] after [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Mormon Basin succeeded in arresting the Spaniard and brought him back to Auburn. Upon his arrival [illegible] considerable excitement prevailed among the people and various propositions were made as to what should be done with him, and I am sorry to say that the prevailing opinion was that he should be immediately hung. Several of our citizens did all they could to prevent such a scene, but their efforts were in vain. The Sheriff having taken possession of the prisoner declared he would defend him to the last, and succeeded in keeping him over night in a saloon—a strong guard being placed over him on the inside, while another guard composed of those who were for mobbing him remained on the outside of the saloon during the night. At an early hour in the morning the people from all the mining camps around began to flock into town, and the excitement still continued to grow stronger and more determined to immediately hang him. About eight A. M. Mr. Kirk [illegible] took a stump and addressed the crowd (which by this time had become immense) on behalf of law and order, showing the people what was in the power of the civil law, and adjuring them to refrain from establishing the precedent of mob law in this community, as it would be impossible to foresee where it might end. He was followed by Capt. Johnson, who held that the civil law was powerless to punish this criminal, and that it was the duty of the people to take the matter in their own hands. Others followed him sustaining his views of the case, till the excitement reached fever heat. Those who had not already their rifles with them, went after them, and appeared in line in front of Capt. Johnson's store, when he in a very condescending manner offered his services as captain of the corps. The prisoner was then taken before Justice Abell, who for the nonce held his Court in the open air, on a hill side west of town. The evidence in the case was heard and noted, by a clerk, and when concluded it was read to the populace who by this time had empannelled a jury who were to decide the case from the evidence they heard read. After a few moments deliberation, the jury brought in a verdict of "guilty of murder," and on the question being put "Shall the prisoner be allowed to remain in the hands of the civil authorities?" a terrific "no!" reverberated among the hills which one not acquainted with the case would have considered unanimous. The Sheriff then addressed the crowd assuring them that he would defend the prisoner and recommended them to keep the peace and act as good and law abiding citizens should. G. C. Robbins and others addressed the crowd on behalf of law and order, and for a time I thought the law would be respected, but it was only the calm usual before a storm. Suddenly a rush was made and the prisoner was hauled from the stand. The Sheriff and his party held last, so did the crowd, and for three minutes the fight appeared evenly contested; all that could be seen was a vast sea of heads, with here and there rifles visible among them. Soon the cries of "shoot!" and "don't shoot!" greeted our ears, quickly followed by shots, when the crowd opened and the prisoner was in the hands of a mob. They took him by the chain on his leg and run down the hill with him in that position till they reached Main street, when they put a rope around his neck, and a hundred men at least, took hold of it and run over half a mile before they reached the tree on which they swung him. The prisoner was dead long before he was hung up, as he had been dragged against stumps and rocks, and was also choked, a torture which would have been disgraceful to savages, let alone "white men." During the fracas, three men were shot, one in the thigh, another in the arm, and the third in the leg, none of which, though painful, are dangerous. The man shot in the arm was fired at in the crowd by a Spaniard who immediately took to his heels, followed by a number of men, who, it is reported, killed him dead, firing some thirty shots into him. Thus this affair has resulted in the death of four men, and the wounding of three.

This was without exception the most barbarous transaction I have ever witnessed, and one the memory of which it will take Auburn years to eradicate. I think the Spaniard richly deserved hanging, but a dog should not be treated in the manner in which he was. The Sheriff stood nobly to his duty, and did not lose hold of the prisoner until he was overpowered.

I understand that the Oregon Steam Navigation Company have purchased what is known here as the "Pine Creek Ditch," paying the stock holders 25 per cent. on their investment. This ditch is not yet finished, and until it is the Auburn mines will be to a great extent at a stand still. It is to be hoped they will hasten its completion.

The county of Baker is now permanently organized and everything is working to a charm, unless it be the judiciary branch of our government. Important suits are pending, and we think it no more than proper that Judge Wilson should show us his "honest face" before next spring. I know he is quite comfortable at home, but office, he must recollect, has its bitters as well as sweets.

News from Boise river is very contradictory; some say it is a humbug, some that it is a good mining camp. I am inclined from what I know to believe the former.

I see several families and business men from the Willamette Valley in town, among them Mr. Humiston [illegible] [illegible]. The weather is delightful. We have had no rain or snow yet in the mountains, and the atmosphere is as clear and dry as a summer day. This is just the thing for us and something for which we should be very thankful. CRAYON.

The Nevada Territory Legislature has under consideration a proposition to assume the expenses of the Territory, now paid by the United States.

The male students at the Willamette University, at Salem, have started drills in infantry tactics, by authority of the board of trustees.

"After weighing all the information received from America the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the conclusion that there [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the present moment [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] would accept [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] gested, and a refusal from Washington [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] time would prevent any speedy renewal of offers of the Government. [illegible] [illegible] thinks that it is better to watch carefully the progress of opinion in America, and if as there appears reason to hope it may be found to have undergone or may undergo any change, this Government may then avail themselves of such a change to offer their friendly counsel with a greater prospect than now exists of its being accepted by the two contending parties. Her Majesty's Government will communicate to the French Government any intelligence they may receive from Washington or [illegible] mond bearing on this important subject."

The London Times editorially observes of Earl Russell's dispatch that his arguments have been anticipated by the public, and that is the best proof of their soundness.

Russell's dispatch produced no effect [illegible] mercially.

The Paris Moniteur says that the answer of England and Russia is an adjournment of the American question of mediation. It adds: "If our information be correct, the hesitation of England and Russia nearly reach its limit."

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

AT THE WHARF.—The Sierra Nevada arrived at Couch's Wharf yesterday evening, after having been detained for nearly twenty hours at Swan Island Bar. The steamer Maria was employed during the day in relieving the Sierra Nevada of her freight and bringing it up to the city in order to lighten her sufficient to cross the bar. The water in the Willamette is at a very low stage, much lower than was ever known before at this or any other time; hence steamers and vessels of the size and depth of the Sierra Nevada experience difficulty in crossing this troublesome little bar. Will not our citizens do something to clean it out and make the channel a little deeper, or are they entirely asleep and indifferent to their best and most important interests? We shall see.

FAVORS.—Jerry Sullivan, of the great news paper depot, San Francisco, and his equally famous prototype, S. J. McCormick, of this city, know how to "keep up the connection" between their establishments and this office in perfect working order. We acknowledge your liberality, gentlemen, and fully appreciate the salutary benefits of the "connection."

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—In the suit known as the "Water Works case," Judge Shattuck sustained defendant's demurrer, which, in effect, dismisses the action.

SAILS.—The Sierra Nevada is advertised to sail on Thursday evening next, at 5 o'clock, for San Francisco via Victoria.

COMMISSIONER'S COURT.—The Board of County Commissioners for Multnomah County met Monday morning, and after transacting a small amount of business adjourned until Friday next.

"OUCH!"—We are sorry to perceive that we have hurt the little Commercial's "phelings," we didn't mean to do it. Poor little fellow, don't cry, now! We only intended to correct an error, that's all.

CRITICISM.—We would friendly advise the Commercial to first learn how to spell correctly, before it begins to talk to us about our grammar. There is not another paper on the coast that contains half as many orthographical errors as it does, and as for its grammar—"O hush!"

Three individuals in Sonoma county, have successfully cultivated 26 acres of tobacco. The average yield being about 7,500 pounds to the acre.—Yreka Journal.

☞ The funeral of Ida Cardwell, who died December 1st, 1862, will take place at the residence of her father at eleven o'clock this morning.

The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

Notice

NOTICE is hereby given to all persons liable to be taxed under the United States Excise Law, that the Annual Roll for District No. 3, consisting of the county of Multnomah, is open for examination at my office in Portland, in the county of Multnomah, and will remain open for the space of fifteen days from the first day of December, for all persons to examine for themselves that their assessment is correct. All appeals must be made in writing, to me, and upon the basis that their property is not valued in proportion to other valuations made in the same district. I will also be at my office in Portland during the time specified above, to hear and adjudicate all complaints.

The above notice is also for all persons that are engaged in any business that requires a license under the United States Excise Law, such as Merchants, Doctors, Lawyers, Hotel Keepers, Eating Houses, Saloons, Stable Keepers, Retailers, Peddlers, &c., all have to be licensed or they are liable to a fine. Chehalis (W. T.) Country.

I think the finest body of land I have seen in this territory is to be found along the Chehalis river, though it is true the most of it is covered with timber. As a general thing however the timber land is better than the prairie, and there are thousands of acres which could be quite easily cleared, the timber being light and mostly composed of vine maple, alder, ash and balm. This land, when cleared, will produce wheat, oats, potatoes and timothy in as large quantities as any land in the world. There are some fine tide prairies at the mouth of the Chehalis river and around Gray's Harbor, where the grass grows all the year round, affording excellent pasturage for cattle at all seasons. This tide land, however, overflows at times in the winter, at new and full moon, but the water is never higher than a foot over the most of this land, and never remains over the land more than an hour or two at most.

The Chehalis river is navigable as far up as Claquato, in Lewis county, I think distant about ninety miles from the mouth of Gray's Harbor.

Gray's Harbor, into which the Chehalis empties its waters, is about twenty miles long. Its greatest width is about fifteen miles. There are several quite large rivers besides the Chehalis running into the harbor, along the borders of which some small prairies are found, and also bottom land, covered with the same kind of timber as the Chehalis.

Much has been said against the harbor and its entrance, but that question is now settled. A survey was made last summer of the entrance and a part of the harbor, that proves it to be one of the best barred harbors on the coast. The channel was found to be three quarters of a mile wide on the bar, and the depth of water is seventeen feet at the lowest tide, and it is only sixty feet across the bar. There is about fifteen feet of rise of tide at this place, so that at almost any high tide there are over thirty feet of water on the bar, and on either side the water is from five to twenty fathoms deep. There is found good and safe anchorage in many places inside the harbor. Farming and cattle raising are not the only kinds of business that could be prosecuted with success. Lumbering and tanning could be carried on to great advantage. The tide runs up the many streams which are tributary to the harbor for many miles, so that the timber growing on the mountains could be rafted to any point on the harbor and made into lumber. Logs could be rafted down the Chehalis even from Claquato. I think that as fine a variety of timber can be had in this part of the country as in any place in the world. The timber consists of cedar, fir, spruce, hemlock ash, alder, maple and balm. The hemlock is found in immense quantities on the mountains, the bark of which could be procured without much trouble and taken in boats to a convenient place to be used for tanning leather.

I stated before that timothy grass could be raised to advantage; I think as much so as any place in the world, and it could be baled and shipped to San Francisco or Victoria, where it would always command a good price. This would be a business that would "pay."

There are several towns on Gray's Harbor and Chehalis river. Chehalis City at the mouth of the harbor, Cosmopolis twenty-five miles from Chehalis City, Montezano thirty, and Claquato, about ninety by the river.

But while we are writing of the advantages of Gray's Harbor, I would not forget Shoal Water Bay. Besides the fine land, safe harbor and good entrance, there are to be found extensive beds of oysters, the gathering of which affords employment for many persons and brings some money into the place. Shoal Water Bay would be a fine place of resort for the people in the upper country.

Capt. Sweeny runs a fine and safe boat from Astoria to Baker's Bay; besides being a very obliging and gentlemanly man his charges are quite moderate. Mr. Wheldon lives at Pacific City, where travelers will meet with kind treatment, and for a small consideration would take them to Oysterville, a distance of twenty miles along the finest beach to be found, with the grand old Pacific—whose mountain waves continually lash the shore on the one hand, and the pretty farms scattered along the shore on the other.

I hope that this description of our beloved territory will not induce people to think that they can live here without work. But if they will come with the intention of working I think they cannot fail to do well, and also to make themselves good homes.—Cor. P. C. Advocate.

The Surgeon General will soon wipe out the disgrace of the wounded lying hours and days on the field. Dr. Davies, U. S. A., better known in the service as "Ambulance" Davies, is organizing, under the Medical Director, Army of the Potomac, an efficient field Cacolet train, so that the soldier can be removed as soon as wounded from the field of battle. The Doctor's plan is highly approved of by the Surgeon General and competent officers, who are familiar with the European organizations for its efficiency and economy.

The rebel losses at the battle of Corinth are set down in the Mississippi journals at 3,180 officers and men. The Union losses as collected from the official reports of the generals in the fight appear to be 315 killed, 1,812 wounded, 215 missing and 17 prisoners—making a total of 2,359. By these acknowledged accounts the rebel loss exceeded that of the Union troops by 821, allowing the rebel figures to be correct.

HALLECK TO TAKE THE FIELD.—It is stated that Gen. Halleck having completed his plan of the campaign, and the Government approved it, he will probably take the field in person at the head of the corps of Heintzelman, Sigel and Sickles (late Bank's) and perform the most important feat of the Winter's campaign by moving upon the enemy's communications at Charlottesville or Gordonsville.

A recent examination, by the State Commissioners, of the books of the Managers of the Delaware State Lotteries for the year ending on the 28th of October 1862 discloses the fact that the people of the United States have, during that time purchased from one firm, lottery tickets to the enormous amount of $2,400,761 65.

A. W. Scales, of Sacramento, has five acres of tobacco which he raised himself this year, and is putting up machinery to manufacture it into form for chewing.

DEFENSES OF WASHINGTON.—The correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser says: [illegible] that Washington [illegible] This is undoubtedly true [illegible] capital [illegible] real danger. [illegible] at any time [illegible] But it is well that the public should know that the [illegible] of Washington [illegible] the [illegible] entire [illegible] ten miles square that every approach to it [illegible] securely guarded. There are fifty-two forts and several parallel lines of embankments at this hour around Washington. The forts at [illegible] Arlington Heights are of [illegible] strength [illegible] the capital against an army [illegible] themselves. All the guns of the forts are in point range of each other, and command every inch of ground between. In addition to these [illegible] heavy shells for over three miles beyond, while the gunboats in the river, within the lines [illegible] the forts the very best of our picked troops are stationed, commanded by experienced officers. It is sufficient to say that four hundred thousand drilled men are on duty, with an abundant supply of ordnance and ammunition, for the immediate defence of the capital of the nation. Hence Washington is safe.

HOW MR. LINCOLN TOOK THE ELECTION NEWS.—Senator Wilson of Massachusetts in a speech made at Cambridgeport, Mass, made the following statement: "The other day I called upon the President with an eloquent Douglas Democrat of Massachusetts. The news had just come to the President of the defeat of his supporters in those States, and the President seemed bowed down as I have seen him bowed down when intelligence of the defeat of our ranks in the field came up to him, and he said: 'I confess that I am grieved at the results of these elections. This intelligence will go to Europe, it will be construed there as a condemnation of the war. It will go into the land of the rebellion and will encourage the leading rebels and nerve the arms of the rebel soldiers fighting our men in the field. It is true many of these men elected profess to be war democrats, but the resolutions of their conventions, the tone of their leading presses and their general action will be construed everywhere against the cause of our country.'"

WELL PUT.—Suppose this nation was engaged in a war with Spain, and we had placed an army on the Island of Cuba, and the President was to declare the slaves on the island free, who would object to it? We venture to assert that every friend of this country would rejoice at it and pronounce it one of the greatest strokes of war policy that could be devised. Now we are engaged in a war with a foe as relentless and remorseless as Spain, or any other foreign nation could possibly be, a foe which proposes to do this nation an injury beyond that which the most wicked and revengeful foreign foe would be too merciful to even contemplate, and men are to be found who denounce the President's proclamation, but who would approve of it if issued against Spain in the case supposed. Does this not show that such men estimate the peculiar institution as of greater value than the country?—Shasta Courier.

The rebel Gen. Hindman, it appears, is in prison at Little Rock, Ark., and is soon to be conveyed to Richmond for trial, on a series of charges preferred by Gen. Albert Pike of scalping notoriety. It is charged that he obtained a million of dollars from the banks of Memphis on the assumed authority of Beauregard, that after getting possession of the money he issued some "most extraordinary military orders," among others, that the wells should be poisoned throughout the country, where the Union forces of Gen. Curtis were expected to pass. It seems curious that such a charge should come from Albert Pike, who instigated, or at least sanctioned, the Indians under his command to scalp the wounded and the dead of the Union army.

PREMIUM ON GOLD.—One of the Montreal papers, speaking of the recent advance in the price of gold in the loyal States, says it is to be remembered that in Britain's struggle with the first Napoleon, when she had to make Bank of England notes a legal tender, the premium on gold rose much higher than it has yet done in the States—the guinea, or 21s. gold piece having been worth 26s., or we think, at one time 27s. in bank notes.

The cotton manufactures of Rouen and Lille in France, are adapting their machinery to the manufacture of flax and woolen articles. Agents from Belgium and Prussia have also recently visited Ireland and offered high wages for skilled artizans to work in the flax mills in those countries.

A FACT.—An exchange says: "We hear no man complaining of arrests that have been made on charges of disloyalty, or of the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in such cases, who does not himself ask for unlimited 'freedom of speech' in behalf of treason, or the largest liberty of action in aid of the rebels."

Complaint is made that Union soldiers in the Southwest are ordered to seize cotton for the benefit of private speculators, who reap all the advantages, while the soldiers if they 'seize' a few ears of corn for themselves are punished. The speculators are getting rich on their traffic in confiscated cotton.

The Germans of St. Louis were making great preparations on the 1st of November to receive Fremont. His hotel was to be illuminated with 1,500 lamps; a grand procession was to come off and he was to be presented with a thousand dollar sword which had been raised by a ten cent subscription.

MRS. FREMONT'S BOOK.—Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont's new book "The Story of the Guard: A Chronicle of the War" will contain several private letters of domestic interest from her husband and his soldiers. The profits of the book are to be devoted by Mrs. Fremont to the support of the widows and children of the fallen brave officers who perished in the fight at Springfield, Missouri.

RISE IN PAPER.—All kinds of paper, printing, wrapping and letter, has gone up 25 per cent. The war tax cannot possibly make so large an advance. Perhaps the Ladies' [illegible] societies all over the Union have devoured all the rags, thus creating a scarcity of the manufacturing material.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The charges against Fitz John Porter to be investigated by the Court of Inquiry now in session, relate strictly to the famous report of General Pope. The correctness of his allegations against Porter will doubtless be thoroughly sifted.

CAIRO, Nov. 22.—An officer of General Grant's staff direct from Lagrange, Tennessee, arrived last night. He doubts the truth of the report from the Memphis Bulletin of the 18th that Bragg had arrived at Holly Springs, and says he does not think the rebels that are in that vicinity number over forty thousand.

A PROCLAMATION.

Treaty [illegible]

The United States of America and the Mexican Republic [illegible] a view to the better administration of justice [illegible] to the prevention of crime within their respective territories and jurisdictions [illegible] with the crime [illegible] urgent [illegible] that this [illegible]

It is agreed that the contracting parties shall, upon requisitions made in their name through the medium of their respective diplomatic agents, deliver up to justice persons who, being accused of the crimes enumerated in article third of the present treaty, committed within the jurisdiction of the requiring party, shall seek an asylum or shall be found within the territories of the other: Provided, That this shall be done only when the fact of the commission of the crime shall be so established that the laws of the country in which the fugitive or the person so accused shall be found would justify his or her apprehension and commitment for trial if the crime had been there committed.

ARTICLE II.

In the case of crimes committed in the frontier States or Territories of the two contracting parties, requisitions may be made through their respective diplomatic agents, or through the chief civil authority of said States or Territories, or through such chief civil or judicial authority of the districts or counties bordering on the frontier as may for this purpose be duly authorized by the said chief civil authority of the said frontier States or Territories, or when, from any cause, the civil authority of such State or Territory shall be suspended, through the chief military officer in command of such State or Territory.

ARTICLE III.

Persons shall be so delivered up who shall be charged, according to the provisions of this treaty, with any of the following crimes, whether as principals, accessories, or accomplices, to wit: Murder (including assassination, parricide, infanticide and poisoning); assault with intent to commit murder; mutilation; piracy; arson; rape; kidnapping, defining the same to be the taking and carrying away of a free person by force or deception; forgery, including the forging or making, or knowingly passing or putting in circulation counterfeit coin or bank notes, or other paper current as money, with intent to defraud any person or persons; the introduction or making of instruments for the fabrication of counterfeit coin or bank notes or other paper current as money; embezzlement of public moneys; robbery, defining the same to be the felonious and forcible taking from the person of another of goods or money to any value by violence or putting him in fear; burglary, defining the same to be breaking and entering into the house of another with intent to commit felony; and the crime of larceny, of cattle, or other goods and chattles, of the value of twenty-five dollars or more, when the same is committed within the frontier States or Territories of the contracting parties.

ARTICLE IV.

On the part of each country the surrender of fugitives from justice shall be made only by the authority of the executive thereof, except in the case of crimes committed within the limits of the frontier States or Territories, in which latter case the surrender may be made by the chief civil authority thereof, or such chief civil or judicial authority of the districts or counties bordering on the frontier as may for this purpose be duly authorized by the said chief civil authority of the said frontier States or Territories, or if, from any cause, the civil authority of such State or Territory shall be suspended, then such surrender may be made by the chief military officer in command of such State or Territory.

ARTICLE V.

All expenses whatever of detention and delivery effected in virtue of the preceding provisions shall be borne and defrayed by the Government or authority of the frontier State or Territory in whose name the requisition shall have been made.

ARTICLE VI.

The provisions of the present treaty shall not be applied in any manner to any crime or offence of a purely political character, nor shall it embrace the return of fugitive slaves, nor the delivery of criminals who, when the offence was committed, shall have been held in the place where the offence was committed in the condition of slaves, the same being expressly forbidden by the Constitution of Mexico; nor shall the provisions of the present treaty be applied in any manner to the crimes enumerated in the third article committed anterior to the date of the exchange of the ratifications hereof.

Neither of the contracting parties shall be bound to deliver up its own citizens under the stipulations of this treaty.

ARTICLE VII.

This treaty shall continue in force until it shall be abrogated by the contracting parties, or one of them; but it shall not be abrogated except by mutual consent, unless the party desiring to abrogate it shall give twelve months' previous notice.

ARTICLE VIII.

The present treaty shall be ratified in conformity with the constitutions of the two countries, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at the city of Mexico within six months from the date hereof, or earlier if possible.

In witness whereof, we, the Plenipotentiaries of the United States of America and of the United Mexican States, have signed and sealed these presents.

Done in the city of Mexico on the eleventh day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, in the eighty-sixth year of the independence of the United States of America, and the forty-first of that of the United Mexican States.

THOMAS CORWIN. [L. S.]
SEB'N LERDO DE TEJADA. [L. S.]

And whereas the said Treaty, as amended, has been duly ratified on both parts, and the respective ratifications of the same were exchanged in the city of Mexico on the 20th ultimo:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President of the United States of America, have caused the said Treaty to be made public, to the end that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-sixth.
